

Company profile

Øwre-Johnsen have delivered machine-engineering solutions for over 60 years and stands today with high expertise in the product areas we work in. We provide not only products, but also the expertise in relation to our products. This enables us to deliver complete solutions for operation of i.e. pumps, technical equipment, associated control and electro. A better adjusted and less expensive solution than if you buy the subjects separately.

We also supply:

- Complete filter systems for lubrication, fuel and hydraulic oils
- Cip cleaning of heating and cooling systems
- Instruments for pressure, temperature and level control

We deliver proven products from reputable manufacturers.
